About The Home

One of the most successful ways to feed your lawn is to apply a light feeding six times a year: Once early in May, twice in July, twice in August, and once in September. The feedings are so light that it will not be any more expensive than the usual twice a year feedings most people use.

It is best to avoid feeding late in April or May or June, unless you live in a far northern state. The reason for this is that the weeds will take most of your plant food and your grass will get very little if any benefit from the feeding. The double feedings during July and August come at the very height of the grass growing season. These double feedings must be combined with plenty of water.

Lawn fertilizers combine nitrogen, phosphorus and potash. They are usually found on the market by numbers such as 5-62 or 10-6-4.

The first number is nitrogen — it equals the sum of the second—(phosphorus) and of the third—(potash). A typical garden fertilizer is 5-10-5, and it may do a good job on your lawn. However, you will need to use more of it than would be necessary with a lawn fertilizer to get the required amount of nitrogen.

If you are putting in grass seed, don't seed for at least a week after you feed. Let at least a month go by after germination before you feed again.

Topsoil is an important item for your lawn and garden. It is food for the dirt, containing humus and plant foods. A perfect condition is 10 inches of topsoil. Below 4 or 5 inches, you will have some trouble. Proper feeding can work wonders, however. Have your soil tested to determine just what is needed.

Chemical soil conditioners are often necessary. Ground limestone will do wonders for a soil that is low in calcium and magnesium. It also lowers acidity, a problem where you have a number of trees.

During fall and winter it is important to keep leaves and pine raked. Grass needs air and light. These leaves can be used to advantage around acid-loving shrubs.

Brings Check For County

Mr. J. C. Hayes, Forest Superintendent of the Buckingham-Appomattox-Cumberland and Prince Edward State Forests, was in Appomattox yesterday to pay to the Appomattox County Board of Supervisors a check in the amount of $3,101.28. This represented 1-4 of the gross proceeds from the sale of timber from the state forests in this forest area. This is an increase over the sum paid here last year, and was a boon to the county treasury.

Payment was also made for the sum of $162.33 from the sale of est lands. The Forest Service is self-pulpwood from the Appomattox for-supporting, and operates on a plus-budget, after operating expenses, including forest fire suppression.

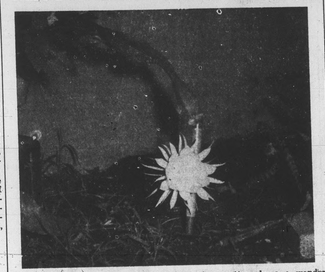
Rare Flower Blooms For The Godseys



Mr. and Mrs. Carlton (Mike) Godsey, Appomattox, have a wonderful flower plant. It is a Night Blooming Cerius (a form of Century Plant). Blooming very rarely, and only at night. The above snapshot was taken late this past Saturday night. A perfectly beautiful white flower, with a religious symbol, is the feature of this bloom. We congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Godsey for their love of beautiful flowers.

Farmers Vote For Wheat Quota

Preliminary results of the wheat referendum conducted in the 39-state commercial wheat producing area on July 21 show that 87.3 per cent of the 170,397 farmers voting favored marketing quotas for the 1961 crop, the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee reports. The vote was 148,766 for and 21,631 against.

Last year only 80.8 per cent of the farmers voting in the national referendum favored marketing quotas for the 1960 crop.

In Virginia, the final results show that 88.2 per cent of the 1,089 farmers voting favored quotas, according to Mr. C. D. Lewis, Chairman of the Appomattox County ASC Committee. The state vote was 960 for and 129 against. He noted that 29.2 per cent of the 3,727 Virginia farmers eligible to participate voted in the referendum.

In Appomattox County there were 31 votes for and 4 against quotas. There were only 28.0 per cent of the eligible voters voting.

The 1961-crop referendum was the tenth in which farmers voted favorably on a national basis on marketing quotas for wheat. Each time the vote in Virginia has been well above the two-thirds majority required for approval.

Future Homemakers Map Program For Year

The Executive Council of the Appomattox Chapter, Future Homemakers of America, met on July 27 and 28 to plan their year's work with Pat Thomas, president presiding. Along with plans for the program of work, a proposed budget was set up for the coming year.

The following program of work was planned:

Goal 1: To develop our potential abilities.

Project A - Youth Can Do.

(Chapter experiences)

1. Prepare a bulletin board to encourage teen-agers to remain in school.

2. Present a 'Girl of the Month' contest and then a 'Girl of the Year' from a poster provided for the purpose.

3. Present a 'Committee of the Month' and then a 'Committee of the Year.'

4. Prepare and write welcome letters to all new incoming members, encouraging them to participate in chapter activities.

5. Present a program on 'Making Friends' during the month.

6. Chapter members familiar with FHA.

(Individual experiences)

1. Experienced FHA members to serve as guides for new members.

2. Improve school spirit by influencing others to continue with their high school education.

3. At all times practice safety measures and help others in the home to be safety minded.

Project B — Teenage Conscious (Chapter Experiences)

1. Familiarize all chapter members with the chapter budget.

2. Invite a representative of a local dry cleaning establishment to give an illustrated talk on problems in the proper cleaning of clothes and other textile merchandise.

3. Have a store manager to discuss with chapter members "Under What Conditions Should a Customer Return a Purchase?" and also discuss what the services of the store such as credit and installment buying mean to the consumer.

(Individual experiences)

1. Plan and abide by the individual budget.

2. Plan several family meals comparing the differences in using instant foods and making it from scratch.

3. Read and file all the "use and care" labels on garments purchased.

4. Add needed and new attractions in a room of your home, emphasizing safety.

Goal II: To develop a better understanding of our family members and to contribute to their well-being.

Project A - Family unity.

(Chapter experiences)

1. Plan and prepare a Daddy-Date Night.

2. Plan and prepare a Mother-Daughter Banquet.

3. Have joint FFA and FHA picnic.

(Individual experiences)

1. Plan with your family how to best share the work in order for everyone to have leisure time.

2. Plan a room arrangement with satisfaction to family members.

3. Plan ways for your family to get acquainted with your friends and like them a smuch as you do.

4. Encourage respect among family members.

Project B: Food for Family Fitness:

(Chapter experiences)

1. Present a panel discussion on "Food for Family Fitness to the PTA.

2. Plan and make good nutrition posters and bulletins about the importance of a Good Breakfast."

3. Present an assembly program before the student body on "Importance of A Good Breakfast."

4. Plan and display posters on ways to discourage "coke and candy" eating.

(Individual experiences)

1. Consider nutritional needs for

Opening Date

Appomattox public schools will open for the 1960-61 session Thursday, Sept. 1, and close June 2, in 1961.

A county teachers' meeting will be held in Appomattox and Carver-Price High Schools on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 30 and 31. The meetings will begin at 9:15, A. M.

The customary holidays will be observed, and there will be several work days for teachers during the session.

School administration officials and teachers have been busy preparing for the new session. The opening of public schools is always an item of major concern, and the time is now close at hand for the new session.

Drug Store To Close at 7

It was announced today that effective Sept. 1, Spencer Drug Store will close each week-day evening at 7 P. M. In the past, the drug store has remained open until 9 P. M. or later. H. Y. Spencer stated that this earlier closing was made necessary by work schedules of employees, and that the new hours would give the employees more time-off and make possible more efficient service to the public. Mr. Spencer also stated that this new schedule was in line with that being used in other localities and that he was confident that the drug store would have the cooperation of its valued customers in this new schedule.

Heavy Rains

Severe storms hit the Appomattox area over the week-end, and at Appomattox the weather reporter recorded a total of 4.76 inches of rain. On Sunday evening there was a severe electrical storm, with 1.45 inches of rain, the rest of the 4.76 inches falling Saturday. Some damage was done by lightning, and the wind. Lightning set ablaze, and fire destroyed a grainary at the home place of Miss Mary Covington, on Route Two. Damage was also done at several places on Route One. The Evergreen community had a very severe storm on Saturday. Several mishaps occurred on the highways during this weather-violent period.
